[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JAN. 24.

EASTERN STATES.

New York News.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Thirty publishers met here last evening and discussed the international copy law. A committee of five was appointed to draft a bill for prosentation to Congress, protecting their interests.

Stokes was arraigned and plead not guilty on charge of the murder of Fisk, in Oyer and Terminer this morning, but the trial was postponed on account of illness of Judge Ingraham. The adjournment was to Monday next and $5 were allowed in court until Stokes had been secure ten minutes.

New York Legislature.

ALBANY, Jan. 24.—A bill was introduced in the Senate this morning vacating the office of every director of the Erie railroad during the new election.

The New Orleans Special Committee left for that city to-day.

Gen. Emory telegraphed to the War Department to-day that all was quiet and parties seem to be preparing for Congressional Investigation.

The Halstead Murder.

TRENTON, Jan. 24.—Governor Parker refuses to interfere in behalf of Botts, the murderer of Halstead. He will be hanged on Friday.

Mutiny at Sea.

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—The bark Warren Hallet, which started from this port last Thursday for Cape De Verde, put into Provincetown harbor on the same night, in consequence of mutiny among the crew. Previous to reaching the harbor a terrible fight occurred on board, during which one man was killed and another fatally injured.

Mexico Wants to Join the United States.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—An army officer writing from the Texan frontier, January 14th, says he has just returned from the interior of Mexico, and found the people almost unanimous for immediate annexation to the United States.

Kansas Legislature.

TOPEKA, Jan. 24.—The Senate, after an exciting debate yesterday, concurred in House joint resolution for investigating charges of bribery against members of the Legislature in connection with the election of Caldwell as Senator last Winter. One of the Senators declared in debate that no investigation would convince most people that Caldwell bought his election.

Miscellaneous Eastern News.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 24.—11:30 P. M.—The verdict in the Wharton case was "not guilty."

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—A Professor of music, John R. Haromon, was assaulted and robbed on Myrtle Avenue, corner Brooklyn, last night, and has since died. The Railroad Co. profess ignorance to the occurrence. There is no clue to the murderers.

WASHINGTON CITY.

National Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The British and American Mixed Commissions adjourned to Monday without transacting any business.

The President sent the following nominations to the Senate to-day: Edward R. Johnson, U. S. Attorney for Wyoming; Addison C. Gibbs, U. S. Attorney for Oregon.

Senator Nye and several other gentlemen from Nevada, were before the Committee on Appropriations urging the re-establishment of the Branch Mint at Carson.

Secretary Delano and heads of the Bureau of the Interior Department, were before the same Committee in defense of an increase of appropriations for that Department. It is probable that such increase will be made.

House.—Shellabarger, Chairman of the Committee on Commerce, reported a resolution directing that the Committee inquire first, whether the commerce of the United States is injuriously affected by the inadequacy of transportation or monopolies in control thereof, or excessive charges. Second, whether foreign commerce is subjected to any restraints under quarantine or health laws, or any laws. Third, whether American seamen or foreign emigrants are subject to any wrong at any points of the United States. Fourth, what legislation is necessary to revise tonnage of American commerce. The resolution was adopted.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the general civil appropriation bill.

Garfield offered an amendment repealing all laws authorizing the publication of the laws in newspapers.

Garfield moved to strike out the clause respecting the establishment of a Branch Mint at Carson City, Nevada, and insert an appropriation of $90,000 for carrying it on. The amendment was adopted.

After progressing as far as page 30, the Committee rose and the House adjourned.

The Tobacco Tax.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The Tobacco Delegation is before the Ways and Means Committee again to-day. Dr. Spence, of Cincinnati, advocated a uniform tax of 10 cents per pound. He said such a tax would yield $28,000,000 annually, and there would be greater certainty and uniformity in the law. Piper, of St. Louis, spoke for relief of plug tobacco manufacturers, who are suffering from competition. Bayley, of Detroit, said all tobacco men are making money. He did not believe any change necessary.

The Chicago Banks.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The Chicago banks, according to latest official statements, show ten per cent. better reserve than the Banks of any other city, excepting Albany.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

English News.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—A severe storm commenced yesterday evening, lasting all night, raging with great violence. The gale at times became a hurricane, and it rained and poured in torrents, flooding the lower portion of the city. Parliament building was damaged by the water penetrating the roof in several places, injuring the decorations and furniture. The storm extended throughout the British Isles, and reached some portions of the continent. Telegraph wires were prostrated in various directions, and communication is interrupted. The storm to the channel and on the coast was excessively severe, and serious disasters to shipping are feared, although (owing to the disarrangement of the wires, probably,) no wrecks are reported.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—The schooner John Bright, Capt. Archimandroff, which cleared for Ounalaska yesterday, is bound on an expedition into the Arctic ocean in search of the winter haunts of fur seals.

The Japanese Embassy attended a party at the residence of Seligman, the banker, last night, and will dine with James Otis to-day.

Alphonz L. Pinoult, the French Scientist, who left here last summer for Alaska, is passing the winter in native huts on the Island of Unga.

The jury in the 15th District Court, in the case of Russell, late of the Figaro, against DeYoungs of the Chronicle, for libel, returned a verdict for the defendants.

The steamer Constitution did not sail from Panama till the 17th, and, consequently, will not arrive here before Saturday or Sunday.

In the bankruptcy case of Frank Lawler, late proprietor of the Lick House, one hundred and fifty one debts have already been proven before the Commissioners. The amount of indebtedness secured is $85,449.81; unsecured, $29,362.93. H. E. Hyde and Hill Beachy have been appointed assignees.

It is possible that a mail (Eastern) may reach here to night or to-morrow night.

A Wisconsin man was taken dangerously sick. He sent for his wife to come at once and care for him. Now, the wife's mother was sick, too, and she sent this dispatch to her languishing husband: "Dear Tim: Mother is sick; I can't leave her. Do the best you can. If you die, send your body home."

OREGON.

Miners in Josephine county are at work successfully. They have more water than for several years.

Wallamet University, Professors, tutors and pupils to the number of two hundred, went skating in a body on Wednesday.

A mail will be carried once a week from Ashland, Jackson county, to Goose Lake, via Klamath. This has been secured through Senator Corbett's efforts.

It is said that Upton, the peripatetic newspaper man, who has started some dozen papers, more or less, in Wallamet valley, is now going to Grande Ronde, Union county, to start another.

Collections of Internal Revenue in Oregon for the year ending June 30, 1871, were $151,432 32. The cost of assessment was $11,301 31; of collection, $8,799 10. Total cost of assessing and collecting, $19,000 41.

The Jacksonville Times (Dem.) ridicules the sending Gov. Grover's Private Secretary, little Mr. Gilfry, to Washington, as "Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary," as the Times puts it. By the way, who pays Mr. Gilfry's expenses? Does the State?

From the Jacksonville Sentinel: The reported location of the railroad through our valley caused great excitement on Butte creek, and the inhabitants rushed to town en masse, and besieged every place where land information could be obtained, all bent on securing the favorable location on the railroad. Greenbacks went up to 95 cents, and scarce at that. Three gentlemen took immediate steps to secure a location for a flouring mill, which will probably be built next summer. Among other things, the rumor obtained that a colony of some 350 German Republicans, from Indiana, had secured a large tract of valuable land on Little Butte creek, where they propose to locate this coming summer.

After the Land-Grabbers.

Senator Corbett proposes that the swamp land practice of the ring that now controls Oregon shall not pass without investigation. We take the following from the Congressional Globe of the 9th:

Mr. Corbett—I have a petition from citizens of Link river precinct, Jackson county, Oregon, in which they set forth that under the act for the admission of the State of Oregon a large amount of land was given to that State for certain purposes, and under the statutes of the State of Oregon this land was to be sold only to actual settlers, in quantities not exceeding three hundred and twenty acres to each settler, at the rate of two dollars per acre. The applicant is required to make oath "that he is living upon such land, that he intends to make it his home, and that he knows of no prior settler claiming any part thereof," thereby precluding the possibility of the lands being bought up by speculators.

The present board of commissioners for the sale of these lands, it is alleged, have set aside the above statute law, giving to speculators the chance to make applications with fictitious names attached, and thereby monopolize all the lands. As this ruling of the board was made shortly after the passage of the odious "swamp land bill" of Oregon, and as the filers on the swamp lands of this section are the persons through or for whom the applications for State lands have been made, these petitioners say they believe the board of commissioners to be in collusion with the swamp land speculators; and, as patents have not been issued to the State for these lands, they ask that some remedy be given by Congress. I ask the attention of the Chairman of the Committee on Public Lands to this petition, and I move that it be referred to that committee.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. Sumner's Amendment.

The talk about the "great principle" that a President of the United States should not be elected to a second term will not amount to anything. There may be such a great principle somewhere in the thin air, but the practice of the American people has been to reelect their Presidents who pleased them. It is the custom of the country that the President shall not be elected more than twice. When Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Jackson and Lincoln were re-elected, it is useless to talk of barring Grant's way with a pretended principle about a second term. If his re-election is to be prevented, it must be upon the ground that he don't deserve the succession—that we don't want him any longer.

A LIVING DEAD.—Over in Brooklyn there is a young girl who, seven years ago, was thrown from a horse. Her back, if not seriously broken, had at least ceased to perform its functions, her heart ceased to beat, and she was dressed for the grave, but about her face there lingered so much of life that her guardian and aunt refused to allow her burial. After a few days, wonderful as it may seem, she recovered the use of an arm, she breathed, and to this day she lives, her body perfectly hopless, the faculty of swallowing entirely destroyed. She has taken no food in the natural way since her injury. One hand is tightly closed, and the other she uses with an almost natural freedom. She is partially blind, and can only faintly utter a few broken words. Her body is wasted till it is the size of a child of six or seven, but her face is still pretty, and bears no sign of her fearful experience. She inserts a knife in the closed hand, and cuts sheets of wax into proper shape, and molds it, colors it, and makes very beautiful wax flowers, lying upon her book with a raised shelf swung across her breast. Life is maintained by injections, and weekly surgical operations enable this unhappy young creature to remain on earth. As her parents left her well off, and she has an aunt whose devotion admits no mercenary thought, this young lady is comparatively unknown. But what a fate has befallen her—a living death—who can tell what can be the action of her mind, for she is incapable of writing much, or speaking but a very few words, and withal seems to have developed an unknown sense, for when her aunt enters the room with a letter she herself cannot read in the gloom of the apartment, the blinded creature, lying, perhaps, turned quite away from the letter, utters a strange noise and faintly speaks the name of the person from whom the letter comes.—N. Y. Letter to St. Louis Republican.

John Kilgour, a wealthy banker of Cincinnati, went to John Morrissey's establishment in New York about a year ago, and played faro on credit until he had lost $10,000, the manager constantly remonstrating, but being assured by Kilgour and his friends that it was all right, and that the player was a man of honor and fully able to meet his losses. A year having elapsed and the debt still remaining unpaid, suit has been brought in Cincinnati to recover the amount. Kilgour, it is said, will relieve himself from liability by pleading the Gambling Act, and Morrissey is satisfied with the exposure he has made.

Miss Shaw, of Boston, has turned all the other girls green with envy. It is reported by Jenkins that she "interested and amused the Grand Duke by her vivacious remarks."

Mr. Sumner and the One-Term Principle.

[From the New York Independent.]

Senator Sumner has introduced into the Senate a joint resolution proposing so to amend the Constitution of the United States that "no person who has once held the office of President of the United States shall be thereafter eligible to that office." He has not yet made his speech on the subject in extenso; yet his voluminous preamble contains the substance of all that has been urged in favor of such an amendment. Mr. Sumner is aware that this subject was thoroughly discussed in the Convention that drafted the Constitution. The conclusion then arrived at was that it would be better to leave the point to be settled by the people in each case, unhampered by any Constitutional restraint upon their choice. The question, though several times agitated in Congress, has never been deemed of sufficient importance to require its submission to a vote of the States. There never has been, and there is not now, any general demand for the One-Term Principle in application to the President; and, moreover, there is no practical evidence showing that the eligibility of the same person for a second term of presidential service has worked detrimentally to the public interests. The change is sought, for the most part, on theoretical grounds, without any facts in our history proving its necessity.

Looking at the principle involved as a question of common sense, we decidedly prefer the Constitution as it is, rather than as it would be if amended according to the proposition of Senator Sumner. Popular government assumes the competency of the people to choose their own rulers; and, if they desire to re-elect the incumbent in office, the fact that he has acceptably served them once ought not to disqualify them to choose him for as many terms as they please, or him to serve them as often as he shall be thus chosen. The general sentiment that would secure the re-election of a President is the best proof that the people are satisfied with his official conduct, and, if so, then they should have the privilege of re-electing him. It would be little short of an absurdity for them, by a constitutional provision, to deny to themselves the right of selecting the man of their choice simply because he has already served them for one term. He certainly is not mentally or morally disqualified by his experience and practice in the public service; he is, rather, a tried and tested man, wiser and more competent by the tests to which he has been subjected; if he has managed the Government well for a single term, the strong presumption is that he will do so for a second term. At any rate, the people are entirely competent to settle the question for themselves at each Presidential election.

We do not believe that the motives to good conduct, on the part of the President, would be increased, but rather decreased, by limiting him to a single term. If he desires re-election, then the surest way to gain the end is to make himself popular by a judicious and upright administration of the Government; and this is precisely what the people want. His interests and theirs are concurrent. Eligibility for a second term furnishes a strong motive in favor of the public good. The only objection urged against it, so far as we have seen, is that the President may be tempted so to exercise the appointing power as to work for his own re-election. This is, indeed, the whole argument contained in Mr. Sumner's long preamble, and in all that Mr. Greeley has written on the subject. There are several answers to this. First, the appointing power is not so great, however diligently it may be used, as to secure the re-nomination and re-election of any President who is not already, for other reasons, the choice of the people. Secondly, the political use of this power is more likely to damage than to improve the President's prospects of re-election, since it would form a very strong argument against him with the people. Thirdly, the power itself is constitutionally limited and qualified by its subjection to the advice and consent of the Senate. Fourthly, the proper remedy against this temptation is not a change of the Constitution, but a system of civil service established by law, the rules of which will preclude appointments on political grounds and for political ends.

The last of these answers is one of great pertinency at the present moment. One of the very best features of President Grant's administration consists in his position in respect to the manner of making appointments in the civil service. The rules which the Commissioners have prepared, and he has adopted, and to which he recommends Congress to give the sanction of law, and thus to make them binding upon all Presidents, propose to divorce these appointments from

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 26, 1872.

Disinterested California.

That the policy of adequate land grants to railroads through the undeveloped regions of the West has proved to be an immense benefit to the people, and incalculably the most beneficent use that could be made of a reasonable portion of the public domain are facts which it does not seem necessary to argue for before the people of Oregon, who are sharing some of the advantages thus conferred, and who hope for more of the same kind.

A member of Congress from California has proposed an amendment to the Constitution of the United States forbidding further grants of any description to railroads. This, coming from California, is modest, indeed. That State has received more grants and more benefits from grants than any other in the Union. Her railroad system has reached a high degree of development. Other parts of the Union have contributed the means which have built California railroads and so opened that State for a splendid and prosperous future. California being now well provided for thinks it high time for the Government to refuse further aid to railroads, and proposes to petrify this refusal in the Constitution. From all of which it is very evident that California knows she has a good thing, and is so perfectly satisfied therewith that she don't want any other State to have a share.

Of course it is well known in California that if Oregon could receive the same amount of aid that California has, Oregon would at once obtain commercial independence and would in a few years become a rival of California in population and wealth. Give us our Salt Lake branch and a connection with the Central Pacific through southeastern Oregon, and our State would at once begin to make strides that would diminish the disparity between her importance and that of California. Oregon, having most natural advantages, would soon be abreast of her neighbor.

A portion of the Eastern press see this matter of aid to railroads in its true light. One of the most sensible of these journals says. They who resist land grants to railroads on the ground that the public domain should be reserved to afford homesteads for poor men, talk absolute nonsense. To offer a free homestead to a man in Western Minnesota, Dakotah or Nebraska, and at the same time deny him the means of reaching the markets of the country with his products, is to set before him a Barmecide feast of empty dishes. Such a homestead would be worth a good deal less than nothing unless rendered accessible and available for productive cultivation by means of railroads.

A little common sense is often an excellent thing. It is the very thing needed in the consideration of this subject. Theorists, projectors, doctrinaires, and visionary people of all sorts are claiming and getting more attention than they deserve. Common sense, homely as it may seem to some people, is a safe guide in legislation, and they who follow this guide cannot but see that grants of land in moderate quantities for railroads that are actually needed to develop the country are not only well enough but are actually essential to State and national progress.

Cost of Collecting the Revenue.

A Democratic member of Congress has been foolishly asserting that the cost of collecting the taxes amounts to one-fourth of the revenue! This simply shows how little a Democratic partisan cares for accuracy and truth.

The cost of collecting internal revenue in every Congressional District in the United States, and likewise the cost of collecting the revenue from customs for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1871, has been published. It appears in the Finance Report for 1871. (By the way, we regret that we haven't a copy of this new book to spare for our neighbor of the Herald, for we think highly improbable that either the "passive" Senator or Representative, whom his party has sent to Congress has furnished him with any.)

The actual cost of collecting the revenue for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1871, was as follows:

Assessing internal revenue	$ 4,069,872 83
Collecting internal revenue	2,132,402 81
Collecting customs	6,560,672 01
Total	$12,762,608 05

Collections for the year were as follows:

Internal revenue	$143,098,153 53
Customs	208,270,438 05
Total revenue	$340,368,581 58

It will be seen, therefore, that the cost of collecting the revenue, instead of amounting to one-fourth of the receipts, is less than four per cent. of them. If the statement of the Democratic Congressman were true the cost of collecting the revenue in 1871 would have been $87,342,000, whereas it was $12,752,000, as above shown. It is curious to observe that the whole staple of current Democratic "argument" is of a piece with this flimsy stuff.

Senator Kelly went to Washington a year ago under a written pledge to labor for the railroad interests of Southern Oregon. His self-humiliation in signing this pledge at the dictation of Southern Oregon's members of the Legislature, was part of the price he paid for his election. A Democratic paper of Southern Oregon complains that he has done nothing whatever to redeem that pledge. In the meantime, however, Senator Corbett is acting in the matter. Though under no pledge to do so, he has introduced the very measure which delinquent Senator Kelly, unmindful of his obligations, has neglected. Senator Kelly's whole term will be just such a failure as this. Whatever his other qualities, he has neither tact nor ability for any public business. He sits on Oregon not for Oregon in the Senate, and the State has to bear the incubus for five years more. The life of average Oregonians is too short to wear out many such inflictions. What adds to the misfortune in the present case is that we never needed an entire strong, active working delegation in Congress so much as we do now.

There has been some talk of war between our country and Spain. It may be well enough for us to inquire what force the countrymen of Don Quixote can bring to bear on our windmill, and what force we can muster to meet them. It is mainly a question of naval strength, since neither party would bring large land forces to bear. Spain's navy at last reports consisted of 73 screw steamers, 24 paddle steamers and 13 sailing vessels, carrying, all told, 1,063 guns. Our navy consists of 46 iron clads, 97 steamers and 32 sailing vessels, with a total of 1,336 guns. Our navy is largest and we needn't be afraid. Still, "let us have peace." But if war should come Cuba would be ours in a twinkling, and Spain wouldn't find it easy to dislodge 50,000 American troops from her own soil, if we should send them there.

Putting Hamlet into the Play.

We are told by the Herald that,—

Senator Sumner made a decided hit the other day, when President Grant sent in his message on civil service reform, which was full of sounding words but contained nothing practical. Sumner said, "While the President recommends civil service reform for others, he does not want it to apply to himself." This is as good as Artemus Ward's disinterestedness, who was willing that all his wife's relations should go into the war.

Now if Senator Sumner would only take this blessed doctrine to his own bosom! Why isn't the one term principle as good for him as for President Grant? Mr. Sumner has been a Senator for three or four terms of six years each, and expects to be a Senator two or three terms more. Just now he is very zealous for civil service reform, the be-all and end-all of which, he says, is one term for the President of the United States. One term, he declares, is to civil service reform what the Prince of Denmark is to the play of Hamlet. But all persons of common discernment perceive that one term for Senators is as essential to the civil service reform that Mr. Sumner aims at, as one term for President. Yet while Mr. Sumner "commends civil service reform for others, he does not want to apply it to himself." In the discussion which has grown out of this proposition he has decidedly the worst of it. The weight of argument is heavily against his proposed amendment. The general verdict is that if we are to go into this business of amending the Constitution in behalf of the "one term principle," we should make it apply also to Senators and Representatives in Congress, and do what Mr. Sumner professes to do but fails in doing,—that is, "put Hamlet into the play."

Facts About the Census.

The Superintendent of the census, in his preliminary report, says that the expectation of the country that the population would be larger than it turned out to be was based on tables of geometrical increase, without sufficient allowance for causes of decrease. The report considers the operations of four causes growing out of the war, which are ample to account for the loss of 3,000,000, which make up the difference between the actual and the projected population. These are:

First, the retardation of increase in the colored population, which is only 438,179, against 1,000,000, which might have been expected; second, the direct loss from wounds and disease, which it is claimed a moderate estimate makes 500,000, in the U. S. armies. The Confederate loss is also estimated at 350,000. Third, the indirect loss by the war, from the withdrawal of a body of men averaging 1,500,000 in number, between the ages of 18 and 45, from domestic life, and the consequent decrease in the number of marriages formed and children begotten. The loss by this cause must have been very great, but no numerical estimate is given. Fourth, the indirect loss occasioned by the check given to immigration, which is reckoned at 353,000. The notorious falling off in the number of children born to American parents in the Middle and Eastern States, since the early days of the country, is attended to as a fifth cause.

The Governor of Pennsylvania in his message to the Legislature says that over eight thousand cases of small-pox were reported in Philadelphia alone during the last six months, and that eighteen hundred and seventy-nine, or 23 per cent. of the whole number of cases proved fatal. Small-pox, he says, is a pest worse than the plague, and a disgrace to the civilization of the age, because it can be so easily prevented by vaccination. He therefore recommends that a law be passed making it the duty of the officers of each township, ward and precinct to see that every person, old and young, male and female, be vaccinated, with power to compel the refractory. It is evident from the spread of the disease that something like this must be done.

Democrats in Congress are taking ground in opposition to the President's system of civil service reform. They want it fixed so that in case they ever do succeed in a Presidential election, they can turn out every Republican, fill his place with a Democrat, and use Government patronage generally for party purposes, as they formerly did. Brave reformers these!

On the 8th inst. the Vice President of the United States laid before the Senate a report by the Secretary of War, communicating information relative to the improvement of the lower Columbia and Wallamet rivers. This information was furnished in compliance with a resolution by Senator Corbett, asking for it.

SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

The East Portland Era finds the Herald now opposing the "passive policy," and says it has "come round."

The New York Tribune is the only one of the great morning dailies of that city that does not issue a Sunday morning edition.

The spread of small-pox is exciting general attention. The Ohio Legislature has a bill before it providing for compulsory vaccination.

The New York Leader, Mayor Hall's organ, has expired. The Tammany thieves and all their works are fast being numbered with things that were.

Referring to the death of Fisk a contemporary says: "Let us speak no ill of the dead." How would it do then to let up on Judas Iscariot and Benedict Arnold?

The ex-Emperor Napoleon, it is said, has been whiling away the hours of expatriation in writing a history of the French army, in which some startling revelations will be made. We take but little stock in those startling revelations.

Claimants of the honor of being the oldest man who enlisted as a private in the Union army, during the late war, are requested to come forward. The present leader in this rivalry was sixty-six when he joined the 51st Illinois infantry.

The Cincinnati Commercial says that it is no secret that over two hundred and fifty persons died of small-pox in that city during the month of December, and from all it can learn the inference is that there has been no decrease in the number of cases, nor has the disease modified in its virulence.

During the year 1871, 126 dead infants were found in the streets, alleys and rivers of New York city. There were during the year, 851 deaths by accident, 179 persons drowned, 108 suicides, and 42 murders. The total number of births in the city during the year were 20,935; marriages, 17,302; deaths, 20,932.

The Democratic State Committee of Missouri have met and endorsed the passive policy. One of the members of the Committee has been authorized to appoint a time when a Convention shall be held to select delegates to a National Convention, the object of which shall be to withdraw the Democratic party from active participation in the Presidential nominations of 1872.

A young man in Danbury, Connecticut, when told by the editor of the local paper that the insertion of the announcement of the death of his wife would cost him nothing, feelingly remarked, "that death for him had been robbed of half its terrors."

The State of Maryland, to avoid the infusion of impure vaccine matter, has a State vaccine agent, whose duty it is to provide and distribute the genine virus.

PACIFIC COAST DISPATCHES.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—Flour—200 bbls Commercial Oregon extra, current rates; superfine, $5 75@6; extra, $6 75@7.

Wheat—Market dull at $2@2 20 per 100 lbs.

Barley—2,000 ctls coast, $1 50@1 60.

Oats—The extremes of the market are $1 60@$1 80.

Potatoes—From 60 to 95 cents will cover lots from wharf.

Eggs—Have been raised to 45@47½ per doz. under an active inquiry.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—The State Labor Convention is now in session, with a good though not large attendance.

Eight hundred thousand dollars coin, has been transferred to New York by telegraph, by Assistant Treasurer Felton.

The party of speculators who failed to find the pirate treasure plant at Cocos Island, have decided to form a communist free love colony on the model of the Oneida community, of New York, in Santa Barbara county, where they have purchased lands.

The San Francisco Insurance Cos. have presented Capt. Willoughby, of Port Townsend, with a $500 watch and chain in acknowledgement of his services in rescuing the schooner Letitia when in peril near that port.

This evening some boys playing on the sandhills in the Western Addition, beyond the old Jewish burying ground, found the body of a young man, shot through the heart, and a pistol beside him on the ground. A letter on the body, signed Albert Lenmann, asks to have the Coroner notified at once and be buried next day. Letters on his person, not to be taken from him, say he dies an honest man but broken-hearted. Supposed to be a case of suicide from disappointed love.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—The body of a man with his coat apparently tied around his head was seen floating off Vallejo Street wharf to-day, but was swept away by the tide before it could be recovered.

A man known as Andrew was found dead in his bed on the corner of Mission and Stewart streets to-day.

A sale of 120 tons good shipping wheat sold for $2 10. Sales of stocks to-day very large. A number of shares sold. The morning board was 21,813, and at afternoon board the number of transactions was greater than usual.

There is a curious mystery surrounding the case of Rose Reily, the young woman who was found crouching under the lumber wharf at the foot of Fourth street, this morning, by a watchman named Goble, and drowned herself after he had given her a dollar to buy food and started to the house to get his wife to provide a bed for her. She was taken out of the water while yet alive but did not speak. She told him she had been living with a family on market street, but for some weeks had been homeless. Her baby is at the morgue and has not yet been recognized by any body. She was about 20 or 22 years of age, medium height, slender, black hair and eyes, decidedly good-looking, apparently Irish. It is conjectured she was a stranger in the city and her death was the result of disappointment in love.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

From Vallejo.

VALLEJO, Jan. 25.—The freight boat of the California Pacific Railroad has been hauled off and the New World commences to-morrow to do both freight and passenger business.

Ice formed an inch thick last night.

A number of changes among the Mare Island bosses are reported on the streets to-night.

NEVADA.

Indians Restive.

RENO, Jan. 25.—The Pinte Indians have been gathering in large numbers on the Walker River Indian Reservation for the past two weeks, an unusual occurrence with them in the winter time. There is said to be a great Indian speaker with them, but from what tribe is not known. It seems that the usual supply of pine nuts, grass seed, etc., is almost wholly cut off, and game is scarce. This is supposed to be the cause of uneasiness, the Indians not drawing supplies from the reservation. Major Tidball and party, from headquarters of the Pacific, with Rev. Mr. Bateman, Indian Agent for Nevada, left for Walker river on a tour of inspection, and if found necessary will provide for them. The reservation Indians under Bateman's care are provided for to the extent of his ability with the means appropriated. Those at the Pyramid Lake Reservation are catching fish, for which they have a ready market. There are no fears of an outbreak unless extreme want should drive the mountain bands to seek food.

UTAH.

Territorial Affairs.

SALT LAKE, Jan. 24.—Baker, principal witness against parties charged with the murder of Dr. Robinson, was arrested to-day for perjury in said case and held to bail in the sum of $3,000.

The Territorial Central Committee of the Liberal party are making arrangements to call a mass meeting in opposition to the admission of Utah. Gen. Conner will write a letter for publication on the situation. Prominent Gentiles charge boldly that part of Attorney Bates' mission to Washington is to effect the removal of Chief Justice McKean, Judge Strickland and Governor Woods; and further, that Mormons have secured Bates' influence, entirely against any further prosecution of Church leaders and for the immediate admission of Utah.

SALT LAKE, Jan. 25.—Baker, witness for the prosecution in the Robinson murder case, makes affidavit that his testimony before Judge McKean in the preliminary examination was wholly untrue. On this affidavit he has been arrested on the charge of perjury and confined at Camp Douglass.

The weather moderated to-day, but is still very cold.

There are reports of cattle dying by the thousands.

Large numbers of passengers from the West are waiting here for a break in the snow blockade on the railroad.

There are public enquiries as to what has become of Salt Lake's contributions for the relief of the Chicago sufferers. The published official list makes no mention of anything received from Utah. The amount collected in this city alone was $20,000.

There were two fires last night and a narrow escape from a general conflagration.

A BIT OF ROMANCE.—For several days a lady from Glasgow, Missouri, named Stinsley, has been in this city in search of her husband, who has been at work as laborer on the bridge during the winter, but who, for some unexplained cause, had left there and was working in the city. The lady made diligent inquiries all around town for her liege lord, but all her searching, and the help of others, failed to elicit the desired information, until she happened to think of a small "blonde dog," with a stump tail and his ears cut off, which she said was the constant companion of her husband. One of the boys who lives at the Valley House, where she is stopping, happened to see a dog of this description last Saturday, on Church street, and forthwith he captured the canine and borne him in triumph to the delighted lady, who immediately recognized him as her husband's pet. The dog, however, was not exactly the member of the family she was the most anxious about, strange to say, and she was almost desponding. The happy thought of tying a note to his neck suggested itself to her, and she forthwith acted upon the suggestion, and the dog was turned out to seek his master. The result was just what was hoped for, and in two hours the husband was in the arms of his overjoyed wife. That dog is a hero now at the Valley House, and when he dies the happy couple will doubtless embalm him and erect a monument to his memory, unless in the flight of time matters should face about to such an extent that they are led to kill him and sell his carcass to the sausage-makers for doing what they might deem an untoward and calamitous act. —St. Joseph Herald.

The Chicago Times gives a recapitulation of the cases of missing since the fire, showing the impossibility of arriving at an exact estimate as to the number of human beings who perished in the great conflagration. It is now distinctly proved that several hundred must have been lost, while some very careful computations place the number at over 1,000.

Mr. John W. Harper, eldest son of John Harper, of the firm of Harper Brothers, has built and furnished, entirely at his own expense a Methodist Church at Port Washington, Long Island. The Harpers are strong Methodists, while the other great publishing house of New York, the Appletons, are sturdy Episcopalians.

MAKE HOME BEAUTIFUL.—You should spare no pains in beautifying your homes and improving the roads that lead to them. What a beautiful picture is a dwelling embowered with trees, its door-yard filled with fragrant flowers, the wood-bine or the honeysuckle encircling the door and windows! How grateful to the traveler is a road free of stones or gulches, and shaded by the cleanly maple or the graceful elm! Make your homes radiant within with every social virtue, and beautiful without by those simple adornments with which nature is everywhere so prolific. The children born in such homes will leave them with regret and come back to them in after life as pilgrims to a holy shrine; the town on whose hills and in whose vales such homes are found will live forever in the hearts of its grateful children.

Failure of many of the most eminent physicians of San Francisco to cure a case of Rheumatism.—Triumph of the Unk Weed Remedy.

SAN JOSE, August 23, 1871.

DR. A. M. LOTTER & CO.: This is to certify that I, the undersigned, have been sick for five years with Rheumatism, and have been treated for many ailments. My trouble has been weakness of the back and side, and wandering pains all over my body. I have been treated by many of the most eminent physicians of San Francisco, as well as of this city, but without any effect. At last I was induced to try your UNK WEED REMEDY, and the result was that after taking the contents of two bottles I found myself perfectly cured. To all afflicted with Rheumatism, I say TRY THE UNK WEED REMEDY, and you will be cured. Yours truly,

FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 26, 1872.

CITY.

DOWN THE RIVER.—Our St. Helens correspondent sends us the following, under date, "St. Helens, which is one of the suburbs of Sea City, Ogo.; Jan 24th, 1872:

The weather is unusually clear, fine and frosty; freezing all the time in the shade.

The ice drift in the Columbia is very heavy, and has been for a week past. Judging from the amount that has passed here, one might reasonably suppose the order of things had been reversed, and that the Columbia had a contract for running all the ice this side of the Alleghany into the Pacific.

Yesterday morning the Ajax passed up; in the afternoon the California passed down, regardless of the heavy masses of floating ice. On Monday the Dixie Thompson and Fannie Troup came down the Slough, took a look at the plucky little Rescue coming up, dodging the vast sheets of ice, weakened and went back to Portland. Yesterday Capt. Randall, in command of the Rescue, passed us below, a feat that few would venture to undertake. The O. S. N. Co. may consider themselves fortunate in being able to command the services of an officer so resolute and skilful.

At last the skating here is a success, and our citizens are enjoying it hugely. The number of skates being limited, they are brought into requisition day and night. The weather being unsurpassed for this sport, the fun is immense. The citizens of the great "Sea City" also have an eye to the beautiful and a taste for enjoyment, judging from the great multitudes passing to the lakes in this vicinity. Every mode of conveyance conceivable is put into requisition to convey the crowds, and from the beauty, intelligence and wealth displayed, one would think that city held trumps.

A messenger has just arrived from "the post," train of cars on the line of the Salem and Sea City R. R.—with the sad intelligence that the train of 180 cars, bound for Sea City with cargoes of wheat for the fleet, three days since ran into the snow drift in the Scappoose mountains where it was 18 feet deep on the track. The engineer being plucky went to work to melt the train through by injecting the bank with hot water from a tea kettle, and had succeeded in working it through three miles; and when his efforts were on the point of being crowned with success—when the passengers had all prepared to vent their joy in one prolonged cheer—when the engineer was preparing his last kettle full of water, an unlucky turn of a stick in the hands of a bystander struck the kettle from his hands. It rolled near the heels of a mule, and the cussed donkey, mule like, gave it a kick and knocked the bottom out of it. And while all hands were giving vent to their disappointment in blessings loud and deep upon that luckless mule, the melting of so much snow had caused a large amount of water on the track, the engineer turned to reverse the engine and go back to the valley. Found that the cold had frozen the machine solid and fast. And now we fear that we need not look for that train before next June, perhaps not then.

TRANSIENT FROM THE DALLES.—Mr. Palmer, book agent, who has been in the eastern counties, reached here yesterday. He left the Dalles on the Idaho on the 18th, and was landed with six others near Collins leading on the Washington Territory side, walked to Vancouver and came to this city by steamer. He reports the trip a hard and dangerous one. In crossing a stream he and another man fell in, and suffered much from exposure afterward. One man was left behind, and is supposed to have reached a house on the way. Thos. Smith, one of the employes of the O. S. N. Co. at the Cascades, died on the 18th from a hurt received some days since. Mr. P. says that in the belt of country through which the Chinook winds blow, east of the mountains, is clear of snow, but in other parts snow lies on the ground, and cattle unfed are now succumbing to cold and exhaustion. At Umatilla ice was from twelve to fifteen inches thick.

GONE INTO THE COUNTRY.—Judge Denny had an interview yesterday morning with a party of the name of Brown. Mr. Brown has heretofore been frequently a guest of the city, and in some sense, appeared in that character yesterday morning—that is to say, he had been hilarious the night before and had accepted the use of the city's public bed, at the invitation of one having authority. The Judge suggested that perhaps a quiet tour into the interior might be beneficial to both host and guest. Mr. Brown saw the force of the remark, and feeling that a man who had once been a "prodi" and wealthy merchant," ought to enjoy his welcome in even so humble a city as Portland, and, with tears in his soft, dreamy eyes, he informed the Judge that he thought he would "git." He got, and now the places that knew him will know him no more—for three days, probably.

THE GREAT AUCTION SALE.—Yesterday, Jos. Middlemiss commenced the sale of the Chemeketa Hotel Furniture at his Auction House, 3 Front street. As this was an extraordinary sale, it had a tendency to bring out a better class than usually attend auction sales, there being among the great number present, several ladies. The sales reached a high figure and brought good auction prices. To-day a fine assortment of carpeting and other goods, which have not yet been shown to the public, will be offered at the sale. There will be some rare bargains and our citizens should take advantage of this opportunity to buy the best furniture and other household goods that has ever been offered at auction sale in Portland. Country people should also be on hand.

LECTURE.—L. L. Rogers, A. M., Prof. of Natural Sciences of the Willamet University, Salem, will lecture to-night before the Washington Debating Society. He has chosen the subject of Chemistry as the topic for this evening's lecture. We hope the people of Portland will attend this course of lectures given under the care and management of this young and enterprising Society, and, especially attend single lectures when given upon such an interesting science by a person who is able to handle it in a very interesting and profitable manner. We are assured that the room will be made warm and comfortable.

NIMBLE THIEVES.—On Wednesday evening a couple of fellows with nimble fingers and heels, entered the store of C. S. Silver & Co. on First street, and, almost in the very presence of the clerks, nipped a cloak and an overcoat and got away with them. Warm clothing in this nipping weather is absolutely indispensable, if physiological laws go for anything. These nimble nippers probably appreciate the fact and went for the goods for the good of their health. They would undoubtedly scorn to steal.

CONSIDERATE PRECAUTION.—Messrs. Mallon & Taylor, who have a steam wood-sawing machine at their wood-yard, foot of Washington street, have just had a patent "spark-catcher" attached to their chimney, by which all danger of fire from that quarter is entirely removed, to the delight of adjoining property owners. The spark catcher is of the same sort as those used on some of the river steamers, and is considered a perfect safeguard.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT.—The dispatches informing of the appointment of ex-Gov. A. C. Gibbs to the office of U. S. District Attorney for Oregon, in place of John C. Cartwright, who has ceased to be a resident of the State. This is an excellent appointment, Gov. Gibbs having large experience in the peculiar line of duties which that office will bring him, and possessing in the fullest degree the confidence of the courts and the people.

A SUIT IN PROSPECT.—We hear that the owners of or the underwriters on the ship Windward will probably bring suit for damages against the tugboat Astoria on account of her abandonment of the ship near Sand Island, by which she received great damage on the occasion of her late entrance into the Columbia river.

THE PORTLAND ACADEMY.—The semi-annual examination of classes in this Institution will commence on Wednesday the 31st inst., and continue three days, closing with an exhibition on Friday evening, February 2d. The third quarter will commence on Monday, February 5th.

FURNITURE SALE.—The sale of the Chemeketa Hotel furniture was not completed yesterday, and will be continued to-day. It is said that the early part of the sale went off with considerable animation.

MAIL TO THE DALLES.—A mail was sent overland to the Dalles, by Postmaster Wakefield, yesterday morning at 11 o'clock.

WILL GET OUT.—The Columbia being reported clear of ice, all the vessels here ready to sail will probably go down the river to-day or to-morrow.

CHINAMAN KILLED.—A Chinese laborer was run over by a dirt car, and instantly killed, at East Portland yesterday.

TRANSPORTATION OF PETROLEUM AND COAL OIL.

LETTER OF INSTRUCTIONS TO LOCAL INSPECTORS.

The following circular was addressed particularly to Inspectors on the Mississippi river; but this copy has also been addressed to the Inspector of this port, and, as we suppose, to all the Inspectors of the United States. It will be seen that while refined petroleum may be carried on boats under certain conditions, the transportation of coal oil on passenger boats is altogether prohibited:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21, 1871.

SIR: I have caused an investigation of the question presented in your letter of the 29th of September last, concerning the carrying of petroleum and coal oils upon passenger boats plying between Cairo and New Orleans, Louisiana, and the construction that should be given such parts of sections 4 and 5 of the act of February 28, 1871, as relate to the transportation and marking of "coal oils and crude or refined petroleum," transported by steam vessels carrying passengers.

The Board of Supervising Inspectors, to whom your communication was referred, adopted at its late session a regulation permitting refined petroleum which will not ignite at a temperature less than one hundred and ten degrees Fahrenheit, to be carried on passenger steamers, upon the guards or forward main deck thereof, and at a safe distance from any fire, on routes when there is no other practicable mode of transportation. [See Rule LVI., Department's Circular for November 6, 1871.]

In considering the regulation in connection with your letter, the Solicitor of the Treasury expresses the opinion "that any violation thereof, or that portion of section 4 which authorizes the same, will subject the owners or owner of the vessel to the penalty imposed in sections 1 and 68 of the act; but that no seizure of the articles shipped can be made, although the vessel may be seized and proceeded against as provided in section 1." From your report it appears that there are means of transporting petroleum between Cairo and New Orleans, both by rail and by a line composed of freight boats exclusively. It would seem, therefore, that its transportation in passenger boats between these points, is in violation of Section 4, and of the regulations thereunder.

For an answer to your inquiry whether the more marking of the name of the article on the cask, without marking the degree of temperature at which the oil will ignite, is a sufficient description under the 5th section of the Act, you are referred to Rule LVI. cited above, which prescribes that the petroleum shall be securely put up in metalic case or vessels, and carefully packed boxes, or in iron-bound casks or barrels, when the casks or barrels are plainly marked upon the heads thereof, with the manufacturers, names, the name of the article, and the degree of temperature, Fahrenheit, at which the petroleum will ignite, and such casks or barrels are placed upon the outer edge of the guards and decks, as aforementioned.

You are directed to report all violations of section 4 and of the regulations cited (a copy of which, will be furnished when received from the printer) to the District Attorney, and to the Department, in order to a prosecution of the offenders in the manner provided for in Sections 1 and 68 of the Act. Very Respectfully,

GEO. S. BOUTWELL,

EAST PORTLAND ITEMS.

[From the Democratic Era.]

Theoditor has received one of the late State Fair badges, and is going to have it framed and preserved as a "thing of beauty."

The cable of the steam ferry, broken by the floating timber during the late high water, is again stretched. The boat will run after night from this time on.

The ice ponds in the neighborhood of this city, are becoming fashionable places of resort. Quite a number from the West side of the river daily make their appearance upon the ponds.

The Board of Trustees at the regular meeting on Thursday passed ordinances "appropriating the balance of the General Fund for 1871 in the Treasury," and "to provide for the payment of audited indebtedness for 1871," and "making appropriations for the ordinary expenses of the city for the fiscal year ending Oct. 31st, 1871," and the bond of S. E. Joseph, City Treasurer, in the sum of $5,000, with J. C. Hawthorne and J. B. Stephens as sureties, was accepted. It was resolved that the City Treasurer be required to keep the following hours for the collection of taxes during the present month: From 8 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

To-morrow will be steamer day.

The ice is said to be nice, on Giles' Lake.

The cold nights are all moonshine, of late.

Work on the city court house and jail has been resumed.

The steamer Fannie Troup went to Kalama and back yesterday.

Mrs. Duniway is lecturing in the east side towns on Woman Suffrage.

There will be another large mail by the Oriflamme, to arrive next week.

Only eight marriage licenses have been issued in this county since Jan. 1st.

The thermometer at the Dalles yesterday indicated fifteen degrees. It had been colder.

Since the advent of the freezing weather, the streets and sidewalks have become remarkably clean.

AMUSEMENTS.

ORO FINO THEATER.—The sterling old drama of Richelieu was reproduced at Oro Fino Theater last evening, to an audience not at all commensurate with either the merits of the play or the players. Richelieu is a character for which Mr. Waldron's capabilities for heavy acting peculiarly adapt him, and those who have not cared to see him in it, have missed one of the best personations of the season. To-night, for the first time in this city, The Romance of a Poor Young Man.

ANOTHER LOCAL PORTENT.—The New Northwest has a column of poetry entitled "Unknown Heroes," over the signature of "Nellie Curl." Mrs. Curl is a Salem lady, of some cultivation and literary attainments; but we do not remember to have before seen her in rhyming print. The poem in question [illegible] ordinary rules, but not much of the impassioned fire which constitutes the vital element of true poetry.

MATTERS AT OREGON CITY.—Somebody is running a course of lectures at Oregon City, and ex-Gov. Gibbs delivered one of the lectures Wednesday evening, on the subject of "Human Progress." The Ballats are running a protracted meeting and the skatists are running their "rockers" over the glassy, etc. Rev. G. Hines has become a real father in Israel. The little fellow is five days old.

FROM THE COLUMBIA.—The telegraph operator reports that the Columbia is closed with ice at Lady's Island, ten miles above Vancouver. Capt. Troup, of the Vancouver, informs us that there was no ice running yesterday, from Vancouver down, except thin ice, just formed. This was not sufficient to be any impediment to navigation.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

PERSONAL, LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Rev. C. C. Stratton has reached New York city in safety.

The congregation of the M. E. Church South, in Albany, are determined to build a church this season.

An encouraging protracted meeting is being held at Olympia. It is largely attended and the interest is increasing.

Rev. R. S. Maclay, of the M. E. Missions in China, has written a letter stating that he will soon return to this country on a visit.

The funeral sermon of Father Buell will be preached at the Buell Chapel at 11 o'clock A. M. on the first Sabbath in February, by Rev. J. H. Allyn.

The wife of Rev. J. S. McCain, of Milwaukie circuit, has been severely ill for the last two weeks, of typhoid fever at the parsonage of Lee's Chapel, East Portland.

A correspondent of the Advocate, writing from the Quinaielt Indian reservation, says: "We have regular Sunday services and prayer meetings during the week. Some of the Indians attend our meetings, but they have very poor ideas of religion."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

BEEF CATTLE.—Messrs. Taylor & McCoy brought yesterday from Polk county a drove of sixteen head of fat stall fed cattle for the Union Market. Fat cattle are a desirable article now-a-days.

NO CHARGE FOR CONSULTATION.—Dr. Aborn wishes to inform the afflicted that he makes no charge for consultations. His opinion in all cases is given free of charge.

THE NEW-ENGLAND MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY was incorporated in 1835, and is therefore the eldest purely Mutual Life Insurance Company in the United States; it has cash assets of over $10,000,000, and is the only Company on the Pacific Coast organized by the Massachusetts Non-Forfeiture Law, offering all the advantages of age and prudent management, its average expenses being lower than any other Company in the United States. It also offers protection against forfeiture by virtue of the MASSACHUSETTS NON-FORFEITURE LAW, which is a feature of great importance, and should be carefully considered by all persons seeking insurance. TESTIMONIALS.

We the undersigned having been the recipients of the services of Mrs. M. C. White in teaching the science of Music on the Pianoforte, take pleasure in giving a hearty Testimonial that we have employed her to our families as a teacher of her "New Method of Instruction," and that it has proven superior to any method we have ever known. And that although the first cost may be a trifle greater than some others, we believe it to be in the aggregate much cheaper, beside being a great economy in point of time. We therefore, take pleasure in recommending her to the patronage of all who may be desirous of obtaining a musical education, as a very superior instructor.

To those who desire to know more about it before increasing any expense, we give a cordial invitation to call at our house and interview her pupils.

EAST PORTLAND, Jan. 3, 1872.

MRS. M. C. WHITE—Respected Madam—Having heard of your System of teaching the Pianoforte, known as the Robins' American Method, and having been present a few days since, at the exercises of one of your pupils, Miss Lena Holman, I was much surprised and exceedingly gratified, at the perfect performance of the most difficult pieces, (such as Gottschalk's Bango, etc.) and this after the short term of six months tuition.

Allow me to express my approbation of your System of your Instruction, and with my best wishes for your success allow me to subscribe myself,

Yours Respectfully,
CH. HARDY, Prof. of Music,
and Leader of the East Portland Band.

An Appeal to Reason.

Health would be much more carefully guarded than it [illegible] of human life proclaimed by many years, if common sense and the light of experience were accepted by the universal public as their medical monitor and guide. The true philosophy of health is simple. It consists in refraining from indulgences, and imprudences which impair the vital forces, and in supplying any deficiency of vital power and constitutional vigor that may exist, by invigorating and alterative treatment. To reinforce and regulate a feeble system, and to prevent a more vigorous physique from yielding to unhealthy and debilitating influences, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is unquestionably the most potent of all vegetable purifyers. As a stimulant, it is the purest ever administered in medical practice, as a tonic and stomachic, the most infallible; as an anti-bilious agent, the safest and surest, and as an aperient and regulating medicine, mild and painless, yet irresistible. It is a protection against disease of every kind, and all seasons, and is particularly efficacious as a means of forearming the system against the ailments generated by a raw, damp, congenial atmosphere. Hence its great value as a winter tonic and invigorant. No one predisposed to indigestion, biliousness, constipation, rheumatism or nervous headache, should ever be without this Vital Elixir. As a certain class of country dealers are very anxious to dose their customers with "local bitters," of a worthless and pernicious character, which they represent to be equal or superior to the great national tonic, the public is hereby forewarned against their "tricks of trade."

LITTLE HOMES!

WE HAVE OBTAINED MANY TESTIMONIALS, which appear in the WEEKLY OREGONIAN, for the purpose of answering our [illegible] many inquiries in relation to our "LITTLE HOMES." We desire to show to strangers, through men of known integrity in this community that they are all we claim for them—cheap at present prices, and the speculation in them like in the future growth of Portland, to the building of Railroads, and Bridges over the Willamette—which is merely a question of time—and in the fact that in less than one mile distant, City Blocks (200 feet square) are selling for from two to three thousand dollars, and in less than two-and-a-half miles (on a direct line) blocks are selling as high as $200,000 per block! Just think of it! $50 per acre for land, and 2½ miles distant, $200,000 per acre! Now York city is over twenty miles in length and six miles wide, and many other cities in the United States are half that long, and quite as wide; and if Portland becomes a metropolis she will require [illegible] land for business purposes. Thirty years ago we could have purchased a section of land where the business portion of Chicago now stands for $10 per acre—$50 for a five acre tract. Thirty years ago we could have purchased the town site of Portland for a Cayuse pony—but we didn't have the pony. Twenty years ago a solitary individual, with neither money nor friends, found himself in Portland without a red. He purchased a basket "on tick," and filled it with oranges, on the same terms, and went to peddling. Twenty long, eventful years have since elapsed. Still that struggly old pioneer has stuck to Portland, and worked his way through thick and thin; and now where do you think he is?—in the poor house, and over for the basket! But to our

TUESDAY EVENING, Jan. 23, 1872.

Portland Legal Tender quotations, 91c buying and 92c selling.

Exchange on San Francisco, 1/8@¼ pc. prem.; on New York, 1¼@1½ pc. prem.

Our local finances continue easy, although there is a perceptible lessening of funds in the banks, owing to the steady call to pay taxes and for other purposes, which without communication with the Dalles being soon established will cause the market to become stringent under the steady call now prevailing. It is generally believed that it will be but temporary. It is about time that our bankers should see if their capital cannot be increased, as the growing trade of Portland requires it. The merchants of this city, as a class, have never called upon them for accommodations to the extent their position entitles them to. But this year, with new fields drawing supplies from us, necessitating more or less increase in their lines of credit at bank, and when the New Grain comes into market, owing to the probably increased crops, we will require more money to move it.

The steamer Oriflamme is expected to leave San Francisco on Saturday, the 27th, bound up.

The steamer Ajax commenced receiving freight this morning. She will leave on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The bark Harrington completed cargo for Cork to-day.

The bark Whistler takes in 740 tons of produce here, and about 75 tons of Lumber, etc., at some point down the river.

Produce Market.

WHEAT.—The market, since our last review has continued to decline, until to-day we doubt if an invoice lot could be placed at over $1 95 @ cental, if for that. This decline is owing to causes pointed out by us as likely to occur, some three months ago in our articles advising farmers to meet the market. We then claimed that charters would, under an active or a prospective active demand, advance, which is the case, for by referring to the charters effected in San Francisco we find that the last effected was at 37s 6d per ton of 2,240 lbs, but by the last mail, received on the 20th, our advices are that the Glory of the Seas, 2,102 tons, was taken to load Wheat for Liverpool at 37s 6d, or 52s 6d, and that the Titan at the same date was taken at 42 1/2s or 55s. The same advices stated that tonnage was rising, and Wheat declining. Our exchanges state that speculators were forcing the market which, in consequence of their offering to sell so freely, showed a still further downward tendency. Since our mail advices telegraphic advice quote the Liverpool market at 15s 4d, or a decline of 6d, being a decline within two weeks of 1s 6d, and the advance in tonnage in the San Francisco market, which of course causes a corresponding reduction in the price of Wheat, we clip the following from a private circular, intended for distribution abroad: "Tonnage is in demand to a minimum, and of the fleet that by this time should have been here, an unusually large number are in distress in various harbors of refuge." Of the cause of the decline in Liverpool we are not fully advised, but judge that several producing countries with surplus, hitherto holding for higher rates, are now free sellers, and if so the natural consequence was that lower prices should rule. What the prospects are for higher prices ruling, we are not at this writing prepared to say; but had farmers and others in California met the market so as to give employment to vessels that were obliged to seek other ports for cargoes, and thus reduced the supply of Wheat and also Exportation nearly, the price now would be found 10 cents to 15 cents per cental higher.

FLOUR.—The tone of market at 12s closes at our last review was firmer, with a moderate call from local dealers, but at the commencement of this week, under telegraphic advices from San Francisco of a further decline in Wheat and the price of Flour being much lower, agents and millers marked the price down 25c ₱ bbl, all round. The steamship Oriflamme, contrary to expectation, did not take out much—only 1,250 bbls, as reported to us. The bark Alice Ross will completed cargo this week for Cork. She will take in 3,000 bbls. The bark Whistler will have on for San Francisco, when cargo is completed, about 6,000 bbls. The Ajax, at the present stage of the river, will take on for San Francisco from 3,000 to 4,000 bbls. We quote market for extra of standard brands at 10 75 ₱ bbl; choice country, $6 50; outside brands and superfine, $5 @$6 25.

OATS.—We have nothing new to report in the market since last week's review. Stocks continue large with demand restricted to local wants. It is claimed by some that farmers engaged on the line of railroads this Spring will have to obtain supplies for seed here owing to the scarcity in the neighborhood. Of this we are not prepared to express an opinion. We quote market weak at $2 25 @ cental sacked, to dealers, and jobbing at $2 35@2 45.

BARLEY.—Brewers are now well supplied for present wants. We quote prices nominally at $2 15@2 25 ₱ cental.

HAY.—Under continued liberal receipts consumers are well supplied, but toward the close receipts are falling off and under weaker market ruling. We note transactions during the week at: from $27 50@30 ₱ ton for Timothy; other qualities, $20@26 per ton.

FEED.—Under more liberal receipts the market is weaker. The steamer California took out over 600 sks, which to a certain extent relieves the market. We quote market weak for Bran at $23 per ton; Middlings, Chop, Ship Stuff and Oil Cake Meal at $30 per ton.

POTATOES.—The market continues to rule low. The vessel from Humboldt with several thousand sacks of choice has not put in her appearance yet. Oregon is in light supply with choice held at extreme rates. We quote market weak at $1 10@1 35 per 100lbs.

ONIONS.—Not few in market and prices advanced on last quotations. We quote market at $2 50@2 75 per 100 lbs.

APPLES.—Receipts have not been so liberal for the past week. The steamer Oriflamme took out 1,000 bxs for San Francisco. We quote market steady at 37½@50c per box.

RAILROAD LANDS.

OFFICE OF LAND DEPARTMENT,

OREGON & CALIFORNIA R. R. CO.

AND

European and Oregon Land Co.,

PORTLAND, OREGON, August 1, 1871.

THE COMPANY IS NOW PREPARED TO EXTEND the pre-emption privilege of purchasing Railroad Lands in advance of the same being placed in market to all parties desirous of securing them on the following terms:

Pre-emption. date, No. —

To the Land Agent of the European and Oregon Land Company:

Sir: You are hereby notified that I have settled upon and improved (description of land) in the county of State of Oregon, containing —— acres, and that I claim a pre-emption right to purchase said lands at the Company's valuation in accordance with the following resolution of the Board of said Company, adopted on the twenty-sixth day of May, A. D. 1871, to the terms of which I hereby fully assent:

"Resolved, That the parties settling upon and improving any of the lands of the European and Oregon Land Company, before the same are opened for market, shall be entitled to the pre-emption privilege of purchasing said lands at the Company's valuation, (which is to be made without reference to improvements) when the same shall be placed in market, in accordance with a resolution of the Board of Directors of said Company, adopted May 26, A. D. 1871."

When the price of the above-described land is fixed, notice thereof will be sent to the party to whom this Certificate is issued, and if the land is not purchased by the said party or his attorney within sixty days from the date of said notice, the Company will be at liberty to sell the land to any other person.

(Name of applicant.)

(Postoffice address.)

When the application is received, a certificate, signed by the Agent, obligating the Company to the terms, will be sent to the claimant in the following form:

PRE-EMPTION CERTIFICATE, No. ——.

This is to certify that —— of —— county, State of Oregon, has this day filed in this office a pre-emption claim to (description of premises), and is hereby entitled to the first privilege of purchasing said land at the Company's valuation, (which is to be made without reference to improvements) when the same shall be placed in market, in accordance with a resolution of the Board of Directors of said Company, adopted May 26, A. D. 1871.

When the price of the above-described land is fixed, notice thereof will be sent to the party to whom this Certificate is issued, and if the land is not purchased by the said party or his attorney within sixty days from the date of said notice, the Company will be at liberty to sell the land to any other person.

(Signed)

Land Agent of the E. & O. Land Co.

The lands will be appraised by a competent, disinterested party, under oath, at their actual present value—no fancy or prospective price on the basis of similar lands in the vicinity, and when appraised as made they will be sold in quantity not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres to one person, payable in five equal annual instalments, with interest from date of contract, at ten per cent. per annum, payable and interest payable in United States Legal Tender Notes. Warranty deeds given after United States Patent issues, upon payment in full.

Blank forms of application furnished upon request.
